THE ARTWORKERS' GUILD

Please submit all paperwork and portfolio two weeks before the Committee Meetings.

The Guild's Committee consider applications four times a year, in January, April, October and November. Candidates must be proposed and seconded by existing Brothers of the Guild, and the Committee would expect you to have attended at least one Guild meeting as a guest to familiarise yourself with the Guild's workings and to meet Committee members.

Candidates are required to supply a CV and a portfolio of work - 3D work is preferable if applicable. This should consist of original work (up to 6 pieces), and if possible a sketchbook or an idea of the process or research carried out for a finished work. Candidates who work on a large scale should show their work in photographs or links on their websites.

Election is by secret ballot of the Committee, after they have read the candidates' proposals, viewed the work submitted and discussed the proposals.

New members' portfolios are laid out for the Guild to see the day after election. It is hoped that if elected, the new member will be able to attend an ordinary meeting with his or her proposer as soon as possible so that they can be officially welcomed to the Guild and sign the "book".

Candidates are advised to arrange their own insurance cover for this period. The Guild will not accept responsibility for loss or damage however caused.
