Please submit all paperwork and portfolio two weeks before the Committee Meetings.

The Guild’s Committee consider applications four times a year, in January, April Candidates must supply a CV and a portfolio of work - 3D work is preferable if applicable. This should consist of original work (up to 6 pieces), and if possible a sketchbook or an idea of the process or research carried out for a finished work. Candidates who work on a large scale should show their work in photographs or links on their websites.

New members’ portfolios are laid out for the Guild to see the day after election. It is hoped that, if elected, the new member will be able to attend an ordinary meeting with his or her proposer as soon as possible so that they can be officially welcomed to the Guild and sign the “book”.
